

Need a dentist? There are places available at Oasis Burton upon Trent

03 May 2011

Burton upon Trent residents looking for a dentist are being encouraged to take up the current places available in the region.

The Oasis practice in Burton Upon Trent, currently has a number of places available for patients to receive dental care.

Based at Station Street, the Oasis practice has been open for over 40 years and has seven surgeries. It is now accepting a number of new NHS patients.

Sandra Noon, practice manager, explains the current drive to fill spaces:

“By working in partnership with the NHS in Burton Upon Trent we want to see as many people as possible using our practice, particularly those people who may not currently have access to any form of dentistry or who are travelling outside the region to keep hold of a surgery appointment.

“Here at Oasis Dental Care, we know how incredibly important dentistry access is to people in Staffordshire and we are working to expand provision across the county for the benefit of local patients. We can’t wait to welcome new patients to our practice over the coming weeks.”

If anyone has a query or wishes to express an interest in receiving dental care and treatment, they should contact the practices over the phone rather than in person: 01283 568985.

Details of your nearest Oasis Dental Practice can be found at:
www.oasisdentalcare.com

Ends

Notes to Editors:

About Oasis – the dental people

- Oasis Dental Care is a leading provider of NHS and private dental care in the UK. It is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Oasis Healthcare Ltd, backed by Duke Street.
- Established in 1996, Oasis now has 178 practices across England, Wales and Northern Ireland and cares for over 1.5 million people.

Oasis caters for all dental care needs, providing NHS and private care and everything from regular check-ups to specialist and cosmetic treatments. Its vision is to transform dentistry in the UK by creating the national dental care brand of choice.